

WORKING RELATIONSHIPS

There is a large community of people working with the CSS. Some of them are on campus while others are overseas or in Washington, DC. The diversity of this group enhances the depth of our research and gives us an ability to host conferences that explore a wide spectrum of opinion. We are in regular contact with these individuals and they represent a vital reserve for our activities.

September, 2003: JMU Research Professor Dr. Austin Lowrey has worked on a variety of issues relating to nuclear security. He was an associate of Dr. Edward Teller.

March, 2004: Dr. Greg Nimera, (right) Director of the School of International Affairs at Kiev University, is an internationally recognized authority on the development of NATO and the conduct of diplomacy.

March, 2004: Tamara Tamarenko of St. Andrews University in Scotland is a leading specialist on international terrorism who briefs US Special Operations personnel. She has also worked as an editor for Caucasus issues for Jane's Intelligence Review.
